Grow your career with us

Apex Medical Centre is a busy, welcoming, physician-led primary care practice serving a diverse community in Toronto's Beaches neighbourhood. We welcome experienced PAs seeking greater clinical responsibility and new graduates eager to develop their skills with supportive mentorship.

The opportunity

- Assess patients, take histories, perform examinations and develop management plans with physician supervision.
- Support acute and chronic disease care, preventive screening, patient education and appropriate investigations.
- Work across mental health, ADHD, women's and men's health, menopause and selected minor procedures, according to competence and authorization.

What we offer

- Competitive hourly pay, performance incentives and potential for additional clinical sessions.
- Supportive family physicians, tailored mentorship, modern EMR, AI-assisted documentation and a collaborative team.

Who should apply?

Graduates of a recognized PA programme who hold, or are eligible for, CPSO registration. Excellent clinical judgment, compassionate communication and teamwork are valued.

Experience in mental health and counselling is preferred. Experienced PAs and new graduates are both encouraged to apply.
